As an initiative of National Skills Week, six Northern Territory Training Advisory Councils hosted the 2012 Jobs Market.

Over the next few years, several major projects in the Northern Territory will require a skilled and flexible workforce. The 2012 Jobs Market provided an opportunity for jobseekers to gain valuable information on job opportunities and how to re-skill, up-skill and change careers.

The Service Industries Training Advisory Council (SITAC) highlighted careers in IT and workforce development training. Area9 was delighted to take part in connecting with jobseekers.
