

Area9 Sponsors the 2012 ACS Golf Day

Darwin IT company Area9 was proud to sponsor the 2012 Australian Computer Society (ACS) Golf Day. Area9's Cloud Team comprised its business development staff, joined by Area9 clients, Sportingbet and Corestaff.

Area9's Cloud Team - from left to right: Stephen Chungue, Area9 Business Development Consultant; Linc Reichelt, Sportingbet IT Operations Manager; Stewart Stacey, Corestaff CIO; Rob Oliver, Corestaff CFO and Simon Watt, Area9 Director

ACS President, George Koulakis, with some of the amazing prizes up for grabs at the 2012 ACS golf day

The ACS promotes the development of Australian ICT resources and has a large membership base. The ACS is the public voice of the ICT profession and the guardian of professional ethics and standards in the ICT industry.

Prizes were awarded to the first, second and third placed teams, nearest to the pin, longest drive, longest putt, highest scored team and wooden spooners. Area9 congratulates the ACS on its largest annual golf event ever staged in its 12 year history.

The ACS drinks girls served cold beverages to thirsty teams on the course

